DAWKINS, Patrick.

I was born and raised in Peppermint Grove and having lived in Cottesloe for over twenty years, my wife and I now live in Hurstford Close and I can look to devote more time to the wider community.

My vision for Peppermint Grove looks to balance preservation of the historical character and lifestyle elements intrinsic to the suburb with a pragmatic approach to progressive town planning.

I believe I can contribute to the council's role of providing leadership and service to the residents and working with neighbouring councils and the state planning bodies.

I have qualifications in management and business and been self employed most of my working life. My work as an estate agent, selling and managing rural properties around Perth has involved working with private and statutory planners to optimize planning outcomes.
